Lung Cancer Screening Symposium:
A PRACTICAL APPROACH

ARRS 2015

October 9–10, 2015
Hilton Tampa Downtown
Tampa, Florida, or ONLINE

Register by August 28
to receive the lowest rates.

Presented in cooperation with the Society of Thoracic Radiology
Participate in Tampa or Online

Participate in our newest Symposium in Tampa or online to enhance your skills in this rapidly growing field of radiology. In-Person and Virtual participants can:

- Earn up to 11 CME credits.
- Develop expertise in the interpretation and management of screen-detected nodules.
- Understand the optimization parameters for low-dose CT imaging.
- Gain strategies to develop a comprehensive lung cancer screening program.
- And more!

CME Credit Information

ARRS is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education activities for physicians.

ARRS designates this live educational activity for a maximum of 11 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.
In November 2014, the U.S. Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) approved lung cancer screening for Medicare recipients. Following the CMS decision, demand for screening services continues to rise. As a result, practicing radiologists are faced with implementing new lung cancer screening programs in widely diverse practice settings. This Symposium will provide the necessary education and training to improve your image interpretation skills as well as insight to developing a comprehensive lung cancer screening program to help you stay relevant in the chest imaging field.

Learning Outcomes

By attending the 2015 Lung Cancer Screening Symposium, participants will be able to:

- Interpret the epidemiology of lung cancer
- Recognize the protean imaging manifestations of lung cancer
- Become familiar with the findings of the National Lung Screening Trial and understand their impact on the current practice of lung cancer screening
- Acquire expertise in the detection and characterization of pulmonary nodules
- Obtain imaging protocols for low dose lung cancer screening
- Review the essentials of establishing a lung cancer screening program
- Apply Lung–RADS™ to the reporting of low dose lung cancer screening CT studies

The early-bird pre-registration deadline is Friday, August 28. After this date, the regular pre-registration fees will apply.

Join us in Downtown Tampa

Downtown Tampa is where past and present cultures come together in must-see architectural works, festival inspiring food and fine-dining, theatrical and musical performances, and much more. See classic and modern architecture from the grand movie palace, Tampa Theatre, to the Rivergate Tower, Tampa’s only cylindrical skyscraper. Take a stroll through Curtis Hixon Waterfront Park, home to festivals and musical performances, or grab a bite at the Tampa Riverwalk along the water.

Symposium Hotel

The Symposium will take place at the Hilton Tampa Downtown in the heart of downtown Tampa. Within walking distance you will find the Tampa Bay Performing Arts Center, the Florida Aquarium, Channelside Bay Plaza, the Port of Tampa, and much more.

Reserve Your Room:
To book your room call (813) 204-3000 and identify yourself as attending the ARRS Lung Cancer Screening Symposium, or book it online at www.arrs.org/Lung.
